LIBERTY CORNER, N.J. (Nov. 23, 2026) - Hudson National Golf Club in Croton-on-Hudson, N.Y., has been selected by the USGA as the host site for the 2034 U.S. Amateur Four-Ball Championship. It will be the first USGA championship conducted at the club.

“We are excited to bring the U.S. Amateur Four-Ball to Hudson National Golf Club for the club's first USGA championship,” said Mark Hill, USGA managing director, Championships. “Hudson National has established itself as one of the premier championship venues in the New York metropolitan area, and its challenging layout and commitment to the amateur game will provide an exceptional stage for this championship.”

Located in Croton-on-Hudson, approximately 40 miles from New York City, Hudson National features a Tom Fazio-designed course set high above the Hudson River. The course opened in 1996 and underwent an extensive Fazio Design renovation that debuted in 2024. The project included rebuilding and repositioning fairway bunkers, rebuilding and re-grassing every green, reshaping select putting surfaces to create additional hole locations and adding new back tees on several holes.

“On behalf of our entire membership, we are incredibly proud to welcome the USGA to Hudson National for the first time for the 2034 U.S. Amateur Four-Ball," said Derek Buckley, general manager and chief operating officer of Hudson National Golf Club. "Hosting a USGA championship represents a special milestone in our club’s history and an opportunity for our members to play a meaningful role in one of amateur golf’s great championships. We look forward to opening our doors to the competitors and showcasing Hudson National on a national stage.”

While 2034 will mark Hudson National’s first USGA championship, the club has a strong history of hosting Metropolitan Golf Association (MGA) amateur and professional competitions. It has hosted two Met Opens, in 2004 and 2021, two Met Amateurs, in 2001 and 2019, and the 2007 and 2026 MGA Mid-Amateurs. The club will host a third Met Open in 2033.

Hudson National also hosted the first U.S. National Development Program State Junior Team match in May between Team New York and Team Massachusetts.

The championship will be the second U.S. Amateur Four-Ball and the 82nd USGA championship contested in the state of New York. In 2016, Benjamin Baxter and Andrew Buchanan defeated Brandon Cigna and Ben Warnquist, 3 and 2, at Winged Foot Golf Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y. It will be the third Four-Ball in the Met Area. Plainfield Country Club in Edison, N.J., hosted the 2025 U.S. Amateur Four-Ball when U.S. National Junior Team athletes Will Hartman and Tyler Mawhinney defeated Evan Beck and Dan Walters, 3 and 1.

The U.S. Amateur Four-Ball was first played in 2015. In 2026, the championship received 2,482 entries (sides). The championship is open to amateur golfers whose Handicap Index® does not exceed 2.4. A starting field of 128 sides (256 players) will play two rounds of stroke play, with the low 32 sides (64 players) advancing to match play. Five 18-hole rounds of match play will determine the champion. The champions are awarded an exemption into that year’s U.S. Amateur, which will be held at The Country Club in Brookline, Mass., in 2034.

The stroke-play co-host venue for the championship has not yet been announced.
