

U.S. Women's Amateur Four-Ball Championship

Tuesday, May 30, 2017

Alice Chen

Taylor Totland

Press Conference

Q. They brought you to all square and then you won the two par-5s on the back nine to go to 2-up again. What happened on those holes? How did you keep up the momentum?

ALICE CHEN: T killed it. We just kind of -- I haven't been playing that well all day, but Tot all the time, she was just always there. She kept on giving herself -- I mean, we both did, just kept on giving ourselves chances for birdies, so she made those birdies, and they were really clutch. Tell him about the long putt.

TAYLOR TOTLAND: It wasn't that long. It was like, what --

ALICE CHEN: It was like 15, 20 feet.

TAYLOR TOTLAND: On 13. But honestly, we didn't really play all that great. It was a grind all day. Just kind of taking whatever we can get and trying to take advantage of it, which we did a good job of. But yeah, it was a grind for us for sure. But Alice came through huge on that last putt. Like that was a right-to-lefter. It was a tricky putt, and she came in clutch.

ALICE CHEN: And I didn't make any putts all day until that last one, so making that 10-footer on the last hole with like -- it was a good 3. It was pretty slopey, so that felt really good just going into the afternoon.

Q. And you know when you have a lead and you know you have to play a second match, do you start to feel the pressure to try to wrap it up as quickly as you can?

TAYLOR TOTLAND: Not really, no. Did you try to -- I mean, I'm kind of hungry.

Q. Yeah, the sooner you win, the sooner you can get in.

TAYLOR TOTLAND: I want to get on the range for a little bit. I don't know when we tee off next.