

SUNDAY, MAY 14, 2023 – 6 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Unrelenting sunshine continues. As we warm up this morning, winds will increase out of the northeast to a peak of 20 - 30 mph this afternoon. A record high temperature is forecast! Another warm, 60-degree night sets the stage for an active pattern on Monday. A risk of thunderstorms is presented in the 2 - 7 PM timeframe Monday afternoon, with a continued threat of showers into early Tuesday. A cooler end to the week is expected as winds turn to the west and cloud cover increases. Enjoy the sunny skies on an otherwise beautiful Mother's Day!
