

TUESDAY, MAY 23rd, 2023 – 6 AM WEATHER FORECAST

A little gloomy looking towards the coast with some showers meandering just off the coast . Keep an umbrella handy as a few of these sprinkles and light showers could kick our way north along the coast over the next couple hours, otherwise our onshore flow will continue to battle it and keep it just south. A mix of clouds and maybe even some sun poking through for our rounds of golf with winds once again gusting in the mid and even 20s by this afternoon. Dry conditions look to maintain other than an additional sprinkle late day with overnight conditions very similar to last night. Let's kick off the Championship round with more dry and slightly cooler weather!
