

FRIDAY, JULY 21, 2023 – 6 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Today we start off cool as our temps are in the 50s this morning with crystal clear skies, and our winds will be on the lower side this morning. As we begin to warm up throughout the day our winds will increase as well, and clouds will begin to roll in this afternoon. We do have a chance of seeing a shower or thunderstorm today into the afternoon hours, but these showers and storms will be scattered. Heading into tonight we still could see a shower overnight and our temps will drop into the 50s. Tomorrow we will start the day mostly sunny again but the fluffy enemy will be back in the afternoon bringing in another chance of showers and storms. They will be very scattered tomorrow so our chances have gone down but can not be ruled out completely.
