

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 23, 2023 – 6 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Say bye-bye to the cloud cover! By lunchtime, we will experience mostly clear skies as temperatures heat towards the lower 80s. A hazy layer of smoke will drift far overhead, limiting the harshness of the sun. Winds will flit around this morning, becoming northerly this afternoon with gusts in the upper teens. Tonight, clear skies allow a sharp cool down to the mid 50s. Thursday will see the first day of increased heat, a trend that has become notable for the rest of the weekend. Temperatures in the low 90s should be expected each day going forward. Regardless of the heat, impactful weather has its sights set on late Thursday night into Friday morning, particularly 2 AM to 8 AM Friday. Lightning will be the primary hazard to deal with, as thunderstorms traverse the region. Additional low chances of thunderstorms continue each afternoon of the weekend, but the majority of action should remain in the mountains. Expect an otherwise warm, mostly sunny finish to the week!
