The historic Riviera Country Club in Pacific Palisades, Calif., will play host to the 81st U.S. Women's Open Presented by Ally. NBC Sports and Versant will present nearly 100 hours of comprehensive coverage across USA Network, NBC, Peacock, NBCSN, and Golf Channel.

Pre-championship coverage begins Tuesday, June 2, at 3:30 p.m. ET with Golf Channel's "Live From the U.S. Women's Open." The show will provide pre-and-post round coverage each day throughout the championship.

In addition to four days of championship coverage on USA Network, NBC, Peacock, and NBCSN, viewers can also enjoy expanded Featured Groups coverage each day of the championship, available on the USGA App, uswomensopen.com, Peacock, YouTube TV, DirecTV, and Xfinity. There will be two morning and two afternoon groups featured in each stream each day of the championship. Moreover, for the second straight year, NBC Sports will utilize the Emmy Award-winning ARL Drone Tracing Technology for all championship coverage across NBC, Peacock, NBCSN, and USA Network. In a first for a women's golf event, drone trace predictive technology will also be utilized throughout the telecast.

First Round coverage on Thursday (June 4) will air on USA Network from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. ET, followed by Peacock & NBCSN from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. ET. Friday's (June 5) second round coverage will air on USA Network from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. ET and will continue on Peacock & NBCSN from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. ET. On Saturday (June 6), USA Network will be live from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. ET, and the day will finish on NBC from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. ET. Peacock & NBCSN will broadcast Sunday's (June 7) final round from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. ET; NBC will air the final round from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. ET. All 6 hours on NBC will also simulcast on Peacock.

Additionally, the broadcast will be enhanced by a limited commercial model of four minutes/hour of commercial time and will continue to feature Rolex's daily commercial free Rolex Hour.

In addition to the golf coverage, the USGA App will provide live scoring, live streaming, videos, photos and other news from the championship.
