Future stars of the game shine on the U.S. Amateur stage, as a total of 19 champions have gone on to win major championships at the professional level including Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Tiger Woods and Bryson DeChambeau. The U.S. Amateur was last played in New York in 2004, when Ryan Moore outlasted Luke List, 2 up, in the championship at Winged Foot Golf Club.

Last year at Merion Golf Club, Jack Whaley, of England, survived a big playoff just to get into match play, then won six matches, including the 36-hole final over Stanford University standout Jay Leng Jr., 4 and 3. Whaley became the first Englishman since Matt Fitzpatrick in 2013 to hoist the Havemeyer Trophy. The victory earned the Florida State rising senior a spot on the 2026 Great Britain & Ireland Walker Cup Team that prevailed at Lahinch.

The 2027 U.S. Amateur will be the 76th USGA championship played in New York, the third-most of any state, and the seventh held at Oak Hill. The championship will mark the third U.S. Amateur hosted at Oak Hill and the first since Hank Kuehne's triumph in 1998. Additionally, Oak Hill has hosted three U.S. Opens (1989, 1968, 1956) and the 1984 U.S. Senior Open. The club also staged the 1995 Ryder Cup, four PGA Championships (2023, 2013, 2003, 1980), two Senior PGA Championships (2019, 2008). The club will also host the 2035 PGA Championship and the 2037 U.S. Women's Open Presented by Ally.

The starting field of 312 players for the U.S. Amateur will play 18 holes of stroke play on Aug. 9 and 10– one round at Oak Hill's East Course, and one at the club's West Course – after which the field will be cut to the low 64 scores. Six rounds of match play begin at the East Course on Wednesday, Aug. 11, and the championship concludes with a 36-hole championship match on Sunday, Aug. 15. The winner and runner-up earn exemptions into the following year's U.S. Open Championship at Winged Foot Golf Club. The championship is open to amateur golfers with a Handicap Index® not exceeding 0.4.
