Designed by Bill Coore and Ben Crenshaw, The Warren Golf Course at Notre Dame opened for play on May 1, 2000. The public course, located on the north edge of the Notre Dame campus, is nestled among 250 acres of woodlands and is a Certified Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary.

Based on the course setup for the championship, the USGA Course Rating™ is 74.8 and the Slope Rating® is 140.

The championship is open to any professional or amateur golfer who is 50 years of age or older as of June 27, 2019. An amateur is eligible with a Handicap Index® not exceeding 3.4.

The USGA accepted 2,796 entries for the 2019 U.S. Senior Open. Entries were filed by golfers in 48 states and the District of Columbia, as well as 32 foreign countries. More than 2,700 entries have been filed in five of the last seven years. The record number of entries is 3,101 in 2002.

In 2019, sectional qualifying, played over 18 holes, was conducted at 34 sites around the country between May 13-June 11. Sectional qualifying sites were located in 26 states, including five in California, three in Florida and two in Georgia and Texas.

The starting field of 156 golfers will be cut after 36 holes to the low 60 scorers and ties.

Eighteen holes of stroke play are scheduled each day from Thursday, June 27, through Sunday, June 30. In the case of a tie after 72 holes, a two-hole aggregate playoff will commence immediately after the conclusion of the fourth round.

David Toms carded an even-par 70 to finish one stroke ahead of Miguel Angel Jimenez, Jerry Kelly and Tim Petrovic to win the 2018 U.S. Senior Open Championship, held at The Broadmoor's East Course, in Colorado Springs, Colo. After making a birdie on No. 16 to go ahead, Toms channeled some positive thoughts from his previous major championship victory, the 2001 PGA Championship, to make a critical up-and-down on the 71st hole.

Toms was paired with Kelly, the third-round leader, and held the lead by one stroke early on the incoming nine. But he bogeyed the par-4 13th hole from a bunker to fall into a five-way tie at 2 under par with Kelly, Petrovic, Paul Goydos and Brandt Jobe. Goydos knocked in a 31-foot birdie putt on the par-4 15th hole to briefly break the logjam and take the solo lead at 3 under. But he missed the 17th and 18th greens and failed to get up and down each time to slip to 1 under par, into a tie for fifth place.

Then it was Toms' turn to break the deadlock for good. He and Kelly both hit the green on the 162-yard, par-3 16th, and after Kelly missed his 21-foot birdie bid, Toms holed his 16-footer. When he knocked his drive on the difficult par-4 17th into a fairway bunker, leaving himself no chance to reach the green in two because the ball sat near the bunker's face, Toms recalled the up-and-down par he made on the 72nd hole to edge Phil Mickelson by one stroke at Atlanta Athletic Club in 2001.

Toms, who missed the cut in his previous U.S. Senior Open start, laid up his second shot to 93 yards from the green and then after an indifferent approach he sank a 19-footer from above the hole for par. Kelly, who held the solo lead the first three days and was seeking to become just the second wire-to-wire winner in championship history, made the turn in even-par 36 to retain his one-stroke advantage. But he stumbled with back-to-back bogeys on holes 11 and 12 as Toms took the lead for the first time. Toms finished with a 72-hole score of 3-under 277.

The 2018 purse was $4 million; the winner earned $720,000.

This is the 40th U.S. Senior Open Championship. The first U.S. Senior Open, played in 1980, was conducted for golfers 55 and older. The next year, the USGA lowered the minimum age to 50.

Miller Barber captured the first of his three U.S. Senior Open titles in 1982 – he also won in 1984 and 1985. The U.S. Senior Open has five two-time winners: Gary Player (1987, 1988), Jack Nicklaus (1991, 1993), Hale Irwin (1998, 2000), Allen Doyle (2005, 2006) and Kenny Perry (2013, 2017). Doyle became the championship’s oldest winner in 2006 at the age of 57 years, 11 months, 14 days.

The youngest champion is Dale Douglass, who won in 1986 at the age of 50 years, 3 months, 24 days.

- The Warren Course is the first college-affiliated course to host the U.S. Senior Open Championship
- The 40th U.S. Senior Open is the 22nd USGA championship to be conducted in the state of Indiana
- The Warren Course is hosting its second USGA championship and first since 2010
- David Toms will attempt to become the fourth player to win consecutive U.S. Senior Opens
- Toms was the first player since Jeff Maggert (2015) to win the U.S. Senior Open in his second attempt
- Toms matched the fourth-best comeback by a winner, rallying from six strokes back over the final 36 holes

This will be the first U.S. Senior Open and second USGA championship to be conducted at the Warren Course at Notre Dame.

In 2010, Emily Tubert, 18, of Burbank, Calif., defeated Lisa McCloskey, 18, of Houston, Texas, 3 and 2, to win the U.S. Women's Amateur Public Links Championship.

In a remarkable stretch of seven holes in the morning 18, Tubert made five birdies and won the sixth through 12th holes, establishing an insurmountable 5-up lead over McCloskey. While it was Tubert's first victory in a national championship, it was also the first time she had advanced to match play.

McCloskey was 2 up when Tubert's great run started. It began when she chipped in for a birdie at the sixth. Tubert later rolled in a downhill 18-footer on the par-3 ninth to ignite a string of four consecutive birdies. She completed the stretch by hitting an 8-iron to within 5 feet on No. 12.

In the afternoon, McCloskey cut the deficit to three holes with a birdie at the 21st but Tubert answered by winning three straight holes with a pair of birdies and a par for a 6-up advantage. She eventually closed out the match on the 33rd hole with a 12-foot birdie putt.

NCAA Division I Women's Regional Championship (2011, 2015)

This will be the 22nd USGA championship played in Indiana and the second U.S. Senior Open contested in the state. In 2009 at Crooked Stick in Carmel, Fred Funk set a 72-hole U.S. Senior Open record for most strokes under par at 20 under and tied the largest victory margin with his six-stroke victory over Joey Sindelar.

The U.S. Senior Open, first contested in 1980, is a relatively new national championship when compared with others conducted by the USGA. Yet the U.S. Senior Open Trophy is actually the oldest among the USGA's championship trophies.

On Sept. 24, 1894, the Tuxedo Club of Tuxedo Park, N.Y., invited three other clubs to compete in the first American interclub tournament. Shinnecock Hills Golf Club, Saint Andrew's Golf Club and The Country Club agreed to the challenge. While there is still some dispute as to which team won, The Country Club team, consisting of H.C. Leeds, Laurence Curtis, Robert Bacon and W.B. Thomas, returned home with the trophy. The sterling silver, hourglass-shaped cup remained in the club's possession until the mid-1950s, when it was given to the USGA for exhibition.

In June 1980, with the USGA preparing for the first U.S. Senior Open, The Country Club suggested that the trophy be used as the formal award for the championship. The cup was presented "by The Country Club and Golfers of Massachusetts," and formally dedicated as the Francis D. Ouimet Memorial Trophy. Roberto De Vincenzo received it at Winged Foot Golf Club as the inaugural champion. A replica of the trophy, complete with engraving of the 1894 Brookline team, was produced by the USGA in 1997 and awarded to Graham Marsh at Olympia Fields (Ill.) Country Club. The original was then given its second and final retirement.

The original U.S. Senior Open Trophy is on display at the USGA Museum in Far Hills, N.J.

– Tim Brown and Jerome Bettis, two University of Notre Dame football greats who each went on to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame, are serving as honorary chairmen of the 40th U.S. Senior Open Championship.

Brown became the seventh Notre Dame player and the first wide receiver to receive the Heisman Trophy when he was recognized as college football's most outstanding player in 1987. Brown, who was enshrined into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2009, would later cap a 17-year National Football League career, primarily with the Oakland/Los Angeles Raiders, with induction into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2015.

Bettis, an All-America fullback for the Fighting Irish, played for 13 years in the NFL, including his final 10 seasons with Pittsburgh. He helped the Steelers win Super Bowl XL, a 21-10 victory over Seattle in 2006, advance to four AFC championship games, qualify for the AFC playoffs six times and capture five AFC Central crowns. Bettis, who was chosen to the franchise's all-time team as part of the 75th season celebration in 2007, was enshrined into the Pro Football Hall of Fame, along with Brown, in 2015.
