

LIBERTY CORNER, N.J. and ST. ANDREWS, SCOTLAND (October 29, 2019) – The USGA and The R&A are finalizing the Distance Insights Project Report, which has been informed by data from across the game. Reinforcing our commitment to ensure that the report is the most comprehensive review of distance to date, we are taking more time to complete our due diligence. As a result, we will release the final report by February 4, 2020.

We appreciate the contributions and support we have received and believe that the data and discussion will benefit the entire golf community.
