PLAYER NOTES:

John Augenstein, 22, of Owensboro, Ky., was the runner-up to Andy Ogletree in last year's U.S. Amateur at Pinehurst No. 2. Augenstein, who won two singles matches as a member of the winning 2019 USA Walker Cup Team, also reached the Round of 32 in the 2018 Amateur at Pebble Beach. He earned first-team All-America and All-Southeast Region honors and was the Southeastern Conference (SEC) Player of the Year as a senior at Vanderbilt University in 2019-20. He posted four top-10 finishes, including a victory in the Desert Mountain Intercollegiate. Augenstein, a member of the 2019 USA Palmer Cup Team, also competed in three U.S. Junior Amateurs and reached the semifinals in 2013 at Martis Camp Club.

Eric Bae, 22, of Pinehurst, N.C., has played in three USGA championships, including the 2017 U.S. Amateur and two U.S. Junior Amateurs. In 2019-20 at Wake Forest University, Bae was selected All-East Region and All-Atlantic Coast Conference. He will return to compete as a graduate student next year. Bae, who was born in the Republic of Korea, advanced to the quarterfinals of the 2019 Western Amateur. His sister, Sarah, played as a collegian at High Point University and North Carolina State.

Philip Barbaree, 22, of Shreveport, La., has played in five U.S. Amateurs and has advanced to match play twice (2017, 2019). He won the 2015 U.S. Junior Amateur, defeating Andrew Orischak in 37 holes and posting a championship record for largest comeback, coming from 5 down with eight holes to play. Barbaree, who qualified for the 2018 U.S. Open, posted five top-10 finishes in the 2019-20 season at Louisiana State University. He was chosen All-Southeast Region twice and All-Southeastern Conference once. Barbaree also has claimed two Division I individual state high school championships.

Garrett Barber, 20, of Stuart, Fla., won the 2018 U.S. Amateur Four-Ball title with partner Cole Hammer. Barber has played in two U.S. Amateurs and reached the Round of 32 in 2017 at The Riviera Country Club. He was chosen All-Southeast Region as a sophomore at Louisiana State University (LSU) in 2019-20. Barber has also competed in three U.S. Junior Amateurs and advanced to the Round of 32 in 2018. He won the 2018 Jones Cup, the 2017 Rolex Tournament of Champions and the 2017 Florida Class 1A high school state championship by six strokes with a 36-hole score of 10-under 134.

Devon Bling, 20, of Ridgecrest, Calif., was the runner-up to Viktor Hovland in the final of the 2018 U.S. Amateur at Pebble Beach and advanced to match play in last year's championship at Pinehurst No. 2. Bling earned third-team All-America and All-West Region recognition as a junior at UCLA in 2019-20. He won the Bandon Dunes Championship by one stroke on March 10. He competed in last year's U.S. Open and in the Masters, where he was one of four amateurs to make the 36-hole cut and finished 55th. Bling has won two consecutive California State Fair Amateurs.

Michael Brennan, 18, of Leesburg, Va., has played in two U.S. Amateurs (2018, 2019). He advanced to the Round of 32 in last year's U.S. Junior Amateur and played in the U.S. Amateur Four-Ball at Bandon Dunes Golf Resort. Brennan, who attended both Tuscarora High and the Academies of Loudoun (engineering & technology), will enroll at Wake Forest University in the fall. In 2020, Brennan won the Maridoe Junior Invitational and tied for third in the Junior Invitational at Sage Valley. He is the first player to win three consecutive Middle Atlantic Amateurs and claimed last year's VSGA Amateur.

Jonathan Brightwell, 22, of Charlotte, N.C., was chosen second-team All-America and All-East Region at UNC-Greensboro in 2019-20 but will transfer to the University of Oklahoma for his final year. Brightwell, who played in last year's U.S. Amateur at Pinehurst Resort & Country Club, was UNC-Greensboro's first Division I All-American. A three-time All-Southern Conference selection, he captured the 2017 conference championship.

Marcus Byrd, 23, of Temple Hills, Md., was chosen Conference USA Player of the Year and first-team all-conference as a senior at Middle Tennessee State University in 2018-19. He missed the fall season after recovering from an auto accident. Byrd, who won the Old Waverly Collegiate and Puerto Rico Classic titles, helped the program to its third consecutive NCAA regional appearance. Byrd, who qualified for match play in the 2014 U.S. Junior Amateur, was the Georgia State Golf Association Junior Player of the Year in 2013.

Frankie Capan, 20, of North Oaks, Minn., won the 2017 U.S. Amateur Four-Ball with partner Shuai Ming (Ben) Wong at Pinehurst Resort & Country Club. He has also played in three U.S. Junior Amateurs and reached the Round of 32 in 2017. Capan transferred to Florida Gulf Coast University for 2020-21 after playing his first two years at the University of Alabama. Capan, who won the Minnesota Amateur on July 15, was the 2017 Minnesota Junior Player of the Year and set a tournament scoring record in winning the 2016 Puerto Rico Junior Open.

Kelly Chinn, 17, of Great Falls, Va., was a semifinalist in the 2019 U.S. Junior Amateur at Inverness Club and reached the Round of 32 and earned stroke-play medalist the previous year. He helped Langley High School win its fourth consecutive Virginia Class 6A state title last fall. He won the individual state crown in 2017, was runner-up the following year and tied for fourth in 2019. Chinn captured the 2019 Rolex Tournament of Champions and was runner-up in the Jones Cup Junior Invitational. His father, Colin, is a retired rear admiral in the U.S. Navy who serves as joint staff surgeon at the Pentagon and is the chief medical advisor to the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Canon Claycomb, 18, of Bowling Green, Ky., played in the 2017 U.S. Amateur and two U.S. Junior Amateurs, advancing to the Round of 16 at Inverness Club in 2019. Claycomb, who is a rising sophomore at the University of Alabama, was the runner-up in the 2018 Florida Class 1A state high school championship after tying for third the previous year, helping Circle Christian School capture the state title. He played on the Greenwood High team in Bowling Green since fourth grade and, in 2016, he led the team to a second-place finish in the state championship while tying for second individually. He was the runner-up in the 2019 Boys Junior PGA Championship.

Parker Coody, 20, of Plano, Texas, has played in two U.S. Amateurs and three U.S. Junior Amateurs. He and his twin brother, Pierceson, each reached the Round of 16 in last year's U.S. Amateur at Pinehurst No. 2 and they are rising juniors on the University of Texas golf team. Parker, who earned All-Central Region honors in 2019-20, fired a final-round 67 to share with Yuxin Lin the 2020 Southern Highlands Collegiate title. The twins are grandsons of 1971 Masters champion Charles Coody.

Pierceson Coody, 20, of Plano, Texas, and his twin brother, Parker, each reached the Round of 16 at Pinehurst No. 2 in last year's U.S. Amateur and they are rising juniors on the University of Texas golf team. They are grandsons of 1971 Masters champion Charles Coody. Pierceson won the 118th Western Amateur on Aug. 1 by defeating Rasmus Neergaard-Petersen, 2 and 1, in the final. Pierceson, who was chosen All-Central Region in 2019-20, won last year's Trans-Mississippi Amateur at Maridoe Golf Club in his home state. He also played in the 2014 U.S. Junior Amateur.

Quade Cummins, 24, of Weatherford, Okla., has competed in two U.S. Amateurs. He was chosen first-team All-American as a redshirt senior at the University of Oklahoma in 2019-20. Cummins was third in the Southern Amateur with a 72-hole score of 283 (5 under) on July 18 and tied for fourth in the Sunnehanna Amateur the following week. He won last year's Pacific Coast Amateur by four strokes with a four-day total of 264 (20 under) and tied for fifth in the Sunnehanna Amateur.

Joseph Deraney, 37, of Tupelo, Miss., was the runner-up to Lukas Michel in last year's U.S. Mid-Amateur at Colorado Golf Club. In 2019, Deraney won the Canadian Mid-Amateur for the second consecutive year, the Mississippi Amateur and the Stocker Cup. He also twice won the Kentucky Mid-Amateur Championship (2016, 2017). Deraney, a stay-at-home father, has competed in five USGA championships. His wife, Sarah, is a radiologist and is affiliated with the Vanderbilt University Medical Center.

Cooper Dossey, 22, of Austin, Texas, earned first-team All-America honors as a senior at Baylor University and will return for a final year in 2020-21. He is one of four players in program history to be chosen to an All-America team twice. Dossey recorded five top-10 finishes and won the OFCC Fighting Illini Invitational. He advanced to the Round of 32 in his first U.S. Amateur last year at Pinehurst No. 2 and has played in two U.S. Junior Amateurs. In 2019, Dossey won the North & South Amateur.

George Duangmanee, 18, of Fairfax, Va., advanced to the semifinals of the Western Amateur on Aug. 1. Duangmanee, who reached the quarterfinals of last year's U.S. Junior Amateur at Inverness Club in his first USGA championship, tied for sixth in the Junior Invitational at Sage Valley on March 14. In 2019, he posted six top-10 AJGA finishes, including a victory in the Cardinal Trophy, and won five U.S. College Sports Camp (USCC) events. Duangmanee, who will attend the University of Virginia this fall, captured the 2017 U.S. Kids Teen Worlds and the 2015 Drive, Chip & Putt Boys 12-13 Division national title.

Austin Eckroat, 21, of Edmond, Okla., has played in three U.S. Amateurs and advanced to match play last year at Pinehurst Resort & Country Club. Eckroat, who competed in last year's U.S. Open at Pebble Beach, earned second-team All-America recognition as a junior at Oklahoma State University in 2019-20. He is also a three-time All-Central Region and All-Big 12 Conference selection. Eckroat tied for sixth in this year's Southern Amateur. He reached the quarterfinals of the 2017 U.S. Junior Amateur, losing to fellow OSU player and PGA Tour winner Matthew Wolff. Eckroat won his second OSSA Class 6A state championship in 2017 as Edmond North High School claimed the state title.

Gene Elliott, 58, of West Des Moines, Iowa, has competed in 34 USGA championships, including seven U.S. Amateurs. He has advanced to the Round of 32 twice. Elliott and his partner Michael McCoy played in the 2019 U.S. Amateur Four-Ball at Bandon Dunes Golf Resort. Elliott, who reached the quarterfinals of the 2006 U.S. Mid-Amateur, won the Canadian Men's Senior Amateur and was the runner-up to Craig Davis in the Seniors Amateur, conducted by The R&A, in 2019. Elliott owns a sanitation and street equipment company, and underwent open-heart surgery 20 years ago. He was inducted into the Iowa Golf Hall of Fame in 2012.

Clay Feagler, 22, of Laguna Niguel, Calif., has competed in four U.S. Amateurs and reached the Round of 32 in 2018 at Pebble Beach. Feagler, who was a senior at Pepperdine University in 2019-20, was chosen All-West Region twice and All-West Coast Conference three times. He shot a final-round 63 to win the 2018 WCC Championship by eight strokes as a sophomore. Feagler advanced to match play in the U.S. Junior Amateur and was the Orange County Player of the Year in 2015.

Alex Fitzpatrick, 21, of England, was a member of the 2019 Great Britain and Ireland Walker Cup Team and he posted victories in singles and foursomes. He has competed in two U.S. Amateurs, advancing to the quarterfinals in 2018 and the Round of 16 last year. Fitzpatrick, who is a rising junior at Wake Forest University, was selected All-East Region for second consecutive year. He is the younger brother of Matthew Fitzpatrick, who owns five PGA European Tour victories. Alex was on the bag for his brother when Matthew won the 2013 U.S. Amateur at The Country Club, in Brookline, Mass.

Agnus Flanagan, 21, of England, was chosen third-team All-American as a junior at the University of Minnesota in 2019-20. He earned first-team All-Big Ten Conference after receiving second-team recognition the previous year. Flanagan, who has twice been voted All-Midwest Region, shared the Big Ten Championship as a sophomore when he shot 2-over 212 at Philadelphia Cricket Club. He fired a final-round 64 to win the Minnesota State Open by two strokes on July 9 and competed in the PGA Tour's 3M Open later that month.

David Ford, 17, of Peachtree Corners, Ga., and his identical twin brother, Maxwell, are both in this year's U.S. Amateur field and they have a triplet sister, Abigail. David, who is a rising senior at Rivers Academy, won the AJGA Invitational at Sedgefield in June, tied for sixth in the Junior Invitational at Sage Valley and tied for ninth in the Georgia Amateur on July 12. In 2019, he posted five top-10 finishes, including a win in the E-Z-GO Vaughn Taylor Invitational and a tie for seventh in both the PGA Boys Junior and Rolex Tournament of Champions.

Maxwell Ford, 17, of Peachtree Corners, Ga., qualified for the 2019 U.S. Amateur at Pinehurst Resort & Country Club. His brother, David, is also in this year's field and they have a triplet sister, Abigail. Maxwell, who is a rising senior at Rivers Academy, tied for third in both the Georgia Amateur and Dustin Johnson World Invitational in 2020. He recorded five top-10 finishes, including a victory in the 2019 Jones Cup Junior with a 54-hole score of 205 at Sea Island Golf Club.

Noah Goodwin, 20, of Corinth, Texas, has competed in four U.S. Amateurs and advanced to the Round of 16 at Pebble Beach in 2018. He won the 2017 U.S. Junior Amateur by defeating Matthew Wolff, 1 up, in the 36-hole final. He rallied from 4 down with eight holes left to win the championship and earn an exemption into the 2018 U.S. Open. Goodwin became the third player to win after being runner-up the previous year, joining Mason Rudolph (1950) and Tim Straub (1983). He earned second-team All-America recognition for the second consecutive year as a junior at Southern Methodist University (SMU) in 2019-20. His father, Jeff, is a professor of kinesiology at the University of North Texas.

Austin Greaser, 19, of Vandalia, Ohio, played in his first U.S. Amateur last year and was a quarterfinalist in the 2019 U.S. Junior Amateur at Inverness Club, losing to eventual champion Preston Summerhays. Greaser, a rising sophomore at the University of North Carolina, registered four top-20 finishes during the 2019-20 campaign. He won the Ohio Amateur on July 17 and broke Ben Curtis' tournament record with a score of 18-under 270. Greaser also claimed the Northern Kentucky Amateur and tied for 10th in the Northern Amateur. Greaser finished third in the 2018 Ohio Division I state high school championship.

Stewart Hagestad, 29, of Newport Beach, Calif., has played in 20 USGA championships, including 10 U.S. Amateurs. He won the 2016 U.S. Mid-Amateur Championship by rallying to defeat Scott Harvey in 37 holes, producing the largest comeback victory since a 36-hole final was introduced in 2001. Hagestad was a member of the victorious 2017 and 2019 USA Walker Cup Teams and won a gold medal in the Mixed Team competition of the 2019 Pan American Games. Hagestad, who advanced to match play in the previous two U.S. Amateurs, has played in the last three U.S. Opens and was the low amateur in the 2017 Masters Tournament, becoming the first invited Mid-Amateur champion to make the 36-hole cut.

Cole Hammer, 20, of Houston, Texas, was a member of the winning 2019 USA Walker Cup Team at Royal Liverpool Golf Club. He has competed in three U.S. Amateurs, advancing to the semifinals in 2018, and four U.S. Junior Amateurs. Hammer also won the 2018 U.S. Amateur Four-Ball with partner

Garrett Barber and was the third-youngest player to compete in a U.S. Open when he played at Chambers Bay at age 15 in 2015. Hammer, a rising junior at the University of Texas, posted two top-10 finishes in 2019-20 after helping the Longhorns to a runner-up finish in the NCAA Championship as a freshman. He tied for 61st in this year's Houston Open on the PGA Tour. In 2018, Hammer won the Western Amateur and led the USA to a second-place finish in the World Amateur Team Championship.

Doug Hanzel, 63, of Savannah, Ga., has played in 36 USGA championships, including 12 U.S. Amateurs. He has competed in the U.S. Amateur in five different decades. He won the 2013 U.S. Senior Amateur and was twice low amateur in the U.S. Senior Open (2012, 2013). A graduate of Kent State University, where he played on the golf team and has a golf scholarship named for him, Hanzel is a retired pulmonologist. In 2012, he became the only player to qualify for match play in the U.S. Amateur, U.S. Mid-Amateur and U.S. Senior Amateur in the same year. Hanzel is a Type 1 diabetic and plays golf with an insulin pump.

Scott Harvey, 42, of Kernersville, N.C., has competed in 32 USGA championships, including nine U.S. Amateurs, and was a member of the 2015 USA Walker Cup Team. He won the 2014 U.S. Mid-Amateur at Saucon Valley Country Club, in Bethlehem, Pa., and was the runner-up to Stewart Hagestad in 2016. Harvey, a property manager, also captured the 2019 U.S. Amateur Four-Ball with partner Todd Mitchell at Bandon Dunes Golf Resort. In 2017, Harvey qualified for his first U.S. Open at Erin Hills. He won the 2015 South American Amateur and was the runner-up the following year.

Joe Highsmith, 20, of Seattle, Wash., has played in two U.S. Amateurs and four U.S. Junior Amateurs, including a quarterfinal appearance in 2018, losing to the eventual champion Michael Thorbjornsen. Highsmith earned All-West Region honors as a sophomore at Pepperdine University in 2019-20. He was also the West Coast Conference Freshman of the Year and a first-team All-WCC selection. Highsmith, who won the 2019 Sahalee Players Championship, became the youngest player to win the Washington State Amateur when he posted a 54-hole score of 9-under 205 in 2017. He reached the quarterfinals of the 2020 North & South Amateur.

William Holcomb V, 22, of Crockett, Texas, advanced to the semifinals of last year's U.S. Amateur at Pinehurst No. 2. He posted four top-10 finishes, including a win in the Bentwater Intercollegiate, as a senior at Sam Houston State University in 2019-20. Holcomb, who became the first Bearkat to reach match play in a U.S. Amateur, was twice chosen the Southland Conference Student-Athlete of the Year and to the all-conference team. He also played in the 2018 U.S. Amateur and 2015 U.S. Junior Amateur. Holcomb was the runner-up to Tyler Strafaci in the 2020 North & South Amateur. His sister, Ann, was a member of the Stephen F. Austin golf team from 2013-17.

Van Holmgren, 21, of Plymouth, Minn., advanced to the Round of 32 in last year's U.S. Amateur, his first USGA championship. Holmgren transferred to Florida Gulf Coast University in the spring of 2020 after earning All-Summit League recognition twice at North Dakota State University. Holmgren, who was the league's top newcomer as a freshman walk-on, won the 2018 MGA Amateur at Hazeltine National. His brothers Will (North Dakota State) and Jack (South Dakota) are also collegiate golfers.
